Dictionary Evidence Of Age Of School House

Two weeks ago, The Era and Express printed a news story about the remodelling of the old school house at the corner of Millard Ave. (Lot St.) and Raglan into an apartment block. The registry office did not have a record of when the building was erected but it was known to have existed some years before Sir William Mulock attended it in 1850.

Further evidence of the age of the school has been supplied by Mrs. N. J. Roadhouse, 107 Main St. Mrs. Roadhouse has in her possession a dictionary given to Sarah Jane Caldwell, a pupil at the school, by her teacher, Miss Felton, in 1848.

Sarah Jane Caldwell was the daughter of James C. Caldwell. She married Moses Bogart who was an uncle of Mrs. Roadhouse and the father of Edgar A. Bogart who died in 1938. At the time of Miss Caldwell's attendance, the school was a grammar school, later becoming the Model School and at the time the property was deeded back to the Crown, it was a high school.

The dictionary is entitled Maudsley's Treasury of Knowledge and the fly-leaf notes that the dictionary section is preceded by Compendious English Grammar with Verbal Distinctions. The book is in good condition despite its age.

SEWERS TO BE BUILT - SOUTH END PROSPECT

Newmarket town council agreed Monday night to build a sewer south on Prospect Ave. from Pearson to Second Sts., a distance of 340 feet. Council had been petitioned for sewers by residents' along Prospect Ave. but doubt as to the ability of the present facilities to handle the increased load had postponed a decision.

Councillor Frank Bowser said that the engineer's report showed that the Prospect Ave. sewer could handle the addition and that the sewer would only go south as far as the edge of the Pickering College property. Cost of the sewer was estimated at $1,450, and it would serve lots 3, 5, 7 and 9.

JUNIOR FARMERS' DANCE To Aid War Wounded

Continuing their drive for their war services fund, the York County Junior Farmers' Executive met in Newmarket last week to complete plans for a dance at Musselman's Lake Sept. 26 to raise money for a station wagon for the convenience of wounded and convalescent veterans who will soon be patients at Sunnybrook hospital. When approached regarding something for the use of his boys, Col. Sidney Lambert, the padre of Christie St. hospital, suggested that a station wagon would be much appreciated as many of the veterans would not be able to travel to town on the buses.

Geo. Davies offered the use of his Cedar Beach Gardens for a dance and the Junior Farmers are looking for a full house to enjoy modern and old time dancing with Max Boag's orchestra.

Ottawa Refuses Building Permit For N.H.S. Addition

A letter from the federal building controller refusing a permit for the construction of the vocational wing at the Newmarket high school was read to the board at the first meeting of the year in the council chambers Tuesday. The letter said that because of the urgency of other construction and the lack of trained construction labor, a permit could not be granted.

Principal J. W. Lockhart told the board that there was a record attendance of 330 students at the high school. Last year's enrollment was 327. He received board approval of a plan whereby the teachers would visit other schools and exchange notes. "One teacher could go each day," he explained. "It would give us an opportunity to see how things are done elsewhere and we could improve our own methods as a result."

On a resolution from A. N. Belugin, Clerk A. M. Mills was instructed to write to the royal commission which is investigating ways of bringing elementary and secondary school curricula into closer harmony, that in the opinion of the board, this might best be done by having a central body set up both courses. "There is too big a gap between public and high schools," said Mr. Lockhart. "If one educational body was authorized to prepare both courses, we would have a certain amount of continuity."

ARRANGE LECTURES

A course in psychology has been arranged by the executive of the Home and School Association under the new adult education plan of the University of Toronto. This course will consist of ten weekly lectures starting Monday, Oct. 15, in the King George school for which the fee will be $2. This course is open to all and will be of special interest to those who seek to understand the child-mind. Enrol early for accommodation is limited. For further particulars contact Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards or Mrs. M. B. Seldon.

BANQUET GIVEN TO P.S. GRADS

Mary Ellen MacInnis and Bob Kofford were presented with first and second prizes of $10 and $5 respectively by Dr. George E. Case, chairman of the public school board, for having the highest standing of the public school entrance classes at the annual banquet for the graduating class Wednesday night. The prizes are offered each year by the public school board.

The banquet was sponsored by the Home and School Association and members of the association did the catering as well as covering other expenses. It was held in the Trinity United church Sunday-school rooms.

Principals H. A. Jackson and Fred L. Hall, and chairman of the separate school board, Bernard McHale, spoke to the entrance classes following the banquet, and Mr. Jackson proposed a toast to their future.

Joan Bovair sang a solo and Barbara Gilroy played a piano solo. Mrs. M. B. Seldon, as president of the Home and School Association, was chairman of the banquet.

The entrance class this year totalled 65.

High School Pupils' Activities Underway

By D.W.

At a morning assembly last Monday, Principal J. W. Lockhart announced the schedules for this year. A meeting of all the customers of the high school cafeteria will be called and six will be elected from their numbers to order supplies and run the cafeteria. The six elected will have the privilege of selecting others that use the cafeteria to help them.

The athletic society and the literary society were also organized. Two members for each organization were elected from each class to the executives of the two societies. The fees for the athletic society are 25 cents for the girls and 35 cents for the boys. The extra ten cents from the boys is to pay for the more numerous bus journeys they have to make.

The accident benefit fund continues this year at the 50-cent premium which was found so successful last year. All medical bills over $2 were paid from this fund. The members of the society elect two students to a board composed of two members of the staff and the principal which passes on the payment of accident benefits.

This year, as an additional safeguard in the school, the benefit fund is purchasing protectors for glasses. The protectors will be available for all students while playing games. In this way, it is hoped to reduce the risk for pupils who wear glasses. Mr. Dick is the treasurer of the fund.

Last Wednesday school was out at 3 p.m. because of a teachers' meeting. A dance was held after school until 5 o'clock.

School rings and pins which were ordered last year came this week.

NO. 23 IS LINK IN CHAIN TO CIVVY STREET

No. 23 B.T.C. comes into operation as an appraisal centre Friday, Lieut. Col. Newton M. Young, commanding officer of the camp, disclosed today. Five years old this October, the camp was originally to have been used for Pacific forces but the end of the Pacific war necessitated a change in plans.

As an appraisal centre, the camp becomes an integral part of the machinery of demobilization and rehabilitation. The men are sent to the Newmarket camp and other appraisal centres where they are given medical and educational examinations and then sent to other centres where they may best fit in while awaiting discharge.

The camp will be used by men who have not yet accumulated a sufficient number of points to receive their discharges and must remain in the army until the men with the higher priority are discharged.

"It is difficult to estimate how long the camp will continue to operate," said Col. Young. "It will exist, of course, as long as men are returning from overseas. There is a good chance that the camp will continue for at least another year but at the best, that is an estimate. It is all a matter of conjecture."

The men passing through the camp will provide part of the interim army and at the same time, be prepared for their discharge when their time comes.

Council Briefs

Application for electric service by J. O. Little for St. Paul's Anglican church and for water service by Dr. L. W. Dales were granted by Newmarket town council at the council meeting Monday night.

The old Newmarket pumper, built in 1853 and for a long time, the town's only fire protection, will be given to York. Pioneers' Society and be housed in Sharon Temple, council agreed Monday night. "We can use the space it occupies for more modern equipment," Deputy Reeve Arthur D. Evans told councillors.

Councillor George Byers was given a free hand to arrange for the repair of the roof of the municipal building at the corner of Main and Botsford Sts. by the council Monday night. "The roof is a disgrace to the town and the leaks are ruining the interior," he said.

Councillors George Byers and J. A. Perks were appointed by the council Monday night to serve on a committee, when formed, to handle the collection of used clothing for overseas distribution. The national clothing collection begins Oct. 1.

Council agreed to write off $374 in unpaid taxes at the recommendation of Councillor J. L. Spillette, chairman of the finance committee. The sum represented uncollectable taxes and incorrect assessments.

JERSEY SALE AVERAGE $260 FOR 34 HEAD

In the third annual York County Jersey Sale at Richmond Hill last week, the top price of $575 was paid by J. H. Molson of Montreal for the yearling heifer, Edgeley Basil Ava, bred and consigned by Alfred Bagg and Sons of Edgley. With the five top all bringing $400 or over, the 34 head averaged approximately $260. B. H. Bull and Sons of Brampton were the largest purchasers, buying five head.

Three head went to Quebec buyers, one to Ottawa, and two to Kingston. Cattle were consigned by 16 York County breeders five being new consignors. A good crowd attended the sale in spite of the excessive heat. President A. C. McTaggart of Don Head Farms, Richmond Hill, expressed his appreciation of the support given the sale which was handled by Jas. Bremner, secretary of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, and the auctioneer, L. E. Franklin.

Careless Cyclists Warned Must Obey Traffic Laws

A letter will be written to the school principals asking them to discipline their pupils in regards to riding their bicycles down Prospect Ave. and Water and Timothy Sts. At Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales' suggestion, the police will be asked to patrol these streets when school is let out to see that traffic laws are obeyed by the cyclists.

Councillor A. V. Higginson told council Monday night that he had received several complaints from Office Specialty employees regarding the way bicycles were ridden down these streets and that he had felt the complaints were justified. "They ride down these streets at break-neck speed," he said. "They have no regard for stop signs or for pedestrians. I am afraid that unless a stop is put to it, especially the practice of riding two on a bicycle, there will be a serious accident."

Accept Petition To Annex Properties On West Park Ave.

The council will do everything in its power to speed the annexation of the lots on Park Ave. west of the town limits, J. B. Waterhouse, Elman W. Campbell and C. Morden Carter, representatives of the property owners, were told at the council meeting Monday night. A committee was appointed to meet with the property owners to lay out the boundary lines of the property to be annexed and the chairman, Reeve Fred A. Lundy, was instructed to bring in a report at the next council meeting, Oct. 1.

The deputation presented to the council a petition, signed by eight of the 14 property owners which would be affected by annexation, asking that the town take in the property. "If the petition is in order, it is just a matter of preparing the necessary papers," said Reeve Lundy. "You may be assured that we will take you in with pleasure," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"What about assessment?" asked Mr. Waterhouse. "There has been some strong opposition to the annexation and those of us in favor of it are fearful of a too high assessment."

"Your assessment will be proportionate to others on Park Ave.," said the mayor. "You have every assurance of fair treatment."

"How soon will we have water and light?" asked Mr. Waterhouse. "We will bring it to you as fast as we can," replied Reeve Lundy.

N. L. Mathews, K.C., town solicitor, told council that the annexation procedure was to first pass a resolution declaring annexation to be expedient. "Then the property owners should petition the municipal board in Toronto," he said. He told council that Whitechurch council should be met and an arrangement made with the township regarding the assets the township would lose through the annexation. He said that the definite boundaries of the land to be annexed should be settled right away. It is for this purpose that the committee was named.

"Why not include the land right down to Eagle St?" asked Councillor Frank Bowser. "It would be worth our while to take in all that property while we are at it." His suggestion was left in the hands of the committee.

Navy Doctor To Open Office Here Within Month

A veteran of six years' service in the navy, Surgeon Lieut. Cmdr. C. Mervyn Peever hopes to open his office within a month. He has purchased the Brimston property at the corner of Tecumseh and Raglan Sts. for a residence and plans to open his medical office on Main St. if space is available.

Lieut. Cmdr. Peever was born in Renfrew and graduated from Queen's University medical school in 1935. He went to England, served in the Royal Navy, and before the war did post-graduate work in Edinburgh. He had a practice in Wales when war broke out.

WHO WILL DO THE JOB?

On Oct. 1, a national campaign to collect clothing for use by the citizens of war-devastated Allied nations in Europe will begin. There is no need to stress the importance of contributing to such a campaign. We are familiar with the great want of food, clothes, medicine and other necessities of life in Europe. We have heard of the abject poverty, intensified by war, that exists abroad from the lips of returning Newmarket veterans. No persuasion should be required to influence us to give all the used clothing we can to help alleviate the misery of our allies.

We need no persuasion to give our old clothes for use in Europe but an organization which will undertake the job of collecting and packing for shipment is definitely required. So far, there has been no indication that any organization in Newmarket is willing to undertake the job. There is every indication of "passing the buck."

The individual organizations in town which have been asked to undertake the job have reasons for not doing so. The job is not in line with the work they do. They are engaged in other work. They have curtailed their activities. But the fact remains, that if the clothing is to be collected, some existing organization must undertake the job or else a new organization be formed for that purpose.

It is no credit to Newmarket that two members of the Newmarket council are appointed to represent the town on any committee or organization which undertakes the collection of used clothes—when and if—such a thing comes to pass. It is not the council's business to undertake the collection; its job is to provide town facilities and to act as a co-ordinating agent in the activity of the collecting organization. Towards that end two councillors have been appointed. But it was necessary to attach the proviso of "if" and "when" to their appointment.

The incident illustrates again the long felt need for a community association, representing all the organizations in town, which could take over a task such as the collection of used clothes for war refugees. It is done elsewhere. In Toronto there is an annual community chest appeal in which all the service clubs and similar organizations combine in the raising of funds for the year. One objective is set and at the end of the campaign the money is divided among the participants according to their need.

There is no reason why this principle cannot be applied to Newmarket. The town has its Lions club, its Red Cross branch, its Women's Institute and similar associations, all dedicated to separate purposes. But when a need for an agency to handle a job like a clothing collection arises there is none which feels itself particularly suited for the job. All are in sympathy with the objective. All will help whoever undertakes it. But none offers to do the job itself.

Let Newmarket have cause to remember the national collection of clothing with shame at the ineffectual part it played, we strongly urge the executive of the service clubs and other organizations in town to meet immediately and show what a united effort can accomplish in a campaign of this sort.

ADULT EDUCATION LECTURES HERE

On the front page of this week's paper there appears an announcement that the Newmarket Home and School Association is sponsoring a series of ten weekly lectures under the new adult education plan through the University of Toronto. Subject of the lectures will be psychology. A fee of two dollars will be charged for the ten lectures.

This week, Wing Cmdr. Ross M. Winter was appointed director of adult education for Ontario. Now overseas, Wing Cmdr. Winter is expected to return to Canada late this month and to assume his new duties Oct. 1. Since 1943 he has been senior educational officer in the R.C.A.F. overseas and a member of several British educational committees. Before his enlistment he was director of university extension for several years at Queen's University. At the outbreak of war he was one of the organizers of Canadian Legion educational services.

The Home and School Association should be congratulated on its zeal in arranging for adult education lectures to be given in Newmarket. Too often it is felt that education ends with graduation. It has never been so. The building of a better community involves a continuing process of education of its citizens. A happy, prosperous community does not just come into being. It is created through the combined efforts of all citizens. Such an effort is being shown by the Home and School Association.

BUILDINGS NEEDED FOR NEW INDUSTRIES

It becomes increasingly apparent that new industries are required in Newmarket if the population level is to be maintained. Newmarket servicemen, discharged from the army where, in many cases, they have learned new trades and skills, have no place in Newmarket where such knowledge is applicable. Former employees of de Havilland and the Victory Aircraft Co. at Malton are in the same position. Their choice of employment is limited. Their only alternative is to move to where they can be gainfully employed. Such an exodus will have a lasting effect. The drop in population will mean less taxable citizens with a consequent heavier burden for those who remain. It will reduce the income of the merchants on Main St. It will make impossible the plans for local improvements consistent with a large population but which have long been needed and will continue to be needed even after the population falls.

The town council is aware of the need for new industries. An industrial committee led by Joseph Vail has worked steadily to attract new industries to town. At the same time, Deputy-Reeve Arthur Evans, chairman of the water and light committee, has warned the town that its present water, electricity and sewer facilities are over-taxed and that widespread improvements will be needed before additional requirements can be met.

Last winter, Aubrey Davis suggested to council that the town erect a factory building and rent or sell it to an out-of-town industry. The difficulty that the industrial committee continually meets is that prospective industries ask as a condition of their locating here that factory buildings be already standing. Mr. Davis' suggestion was made with this difficulty in mind. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales has expressed himself in favor of the suggestion and some council members are in agreement with him. However, the corporation has not the legal power to act as contractor and landlord.

If the town cannot act, then, why not a committee of citizens. In Midland, such a committee has successfully financed a shoe company in this manner. A factory is being erected and it is expected that the plant will employ over 100 men. There is sufficient capital in Newmarket to finance a like enterprise. The building would not need to be on the same scale as the one in Midland; a smaller building would be more quickly built and would not be too much a strain on the water and electricity services.

More small industries for Newmarket instead of another large industry will offer a wider choice for skilled labor. At the same time a number of small industries is a safeguard against mass unemployment such as would follow if a large industry closed down. Small factory buildings are needed to bring new industries here. A construction company financed by local capital and constructing such buildings would be of great value to Newmarket.

GOVERNMENTS WILL AID RECREATION

Considerable emphasis was placed on community recreation facilities at the recent Institute of Human Relations at Lake Couchiching. The federal deputy-minister of health, Dr. George Davidson, promised substantial federal help both in the planning and costs to any community considering the provision of recreational facilities in post-war programs. Fred Bartlett, director of health and physical fitness in the Ontario department of health, said that financial aid up to a third of the total cost could be had from the government.

Both speakers stressed, however, that the governments were not approaching communities with a reception plan for them. The first move had to be made by the community. Then every aid to the successful completion of recreational facilities would be forthcoming. They also stressed that any large scale construction would have to wait until the current housing shortages are met.

It would be in keeping with the first step towards community recreation taken this summer at Lions club park if Newmarket council or a local committee would investigate the possibilities of government aid for the provision of recreational facilities. The success enjoyed by Fred L. Hall with the children shows that a recreational program can be a success. If it is successful for children, there is no reason why adults can not enjoy the same advantages.

In Passing

Reduced marketings of wheat and hogs, only partly offset by more sales of cattle, calves and oats in the first half of 1945, brought a downturn in farm cash income for the first time since before the war, states The Financial Post in a special analysis. Most of the $63 millions decline from the 1944 peak of $765 millions took place in the prairie provinces. Minor increases were noted in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec and British Columbia, and Ontario farm income rose from $179 millions to $202 millions, due chiefly to increased cattle and field crop marketings, plus increased income from dairy products. Total decreases in the prairie provinces were 20 percent, with Saskatchewan reporting a drop of 24 percent.

What Others Think

OUR MAJOR TRADE PROBLEM

(Winnipeg Tribune)
Canada's economic interest is directly involved in both short-term and long-term aspects, for Britain is the dominion's best customer. Should the Keynes-Halifax mission fail to find ways of financing essential food imports from other sources, it is logical to assume that efforts will be made to secure additional supplies from Canada. This possibility has given rise to complacency on the part of some Canadians who seem to think that even though the British should find themselves short of U.S. dollars they would still be able to buy heavily and steadily in Canada. Actually, Canada's postwar position if caught between a "sterling area" on the one hand and a "dollar area" on the other hand, will be almost if not quite as difficult as that of a Britain which finds itself unable to finance its exports through reluctance of other nations to admit British-made goods or make use of British services. Canada cannot export large quantities of wheat, cheese, bacon and so on to Great Britain unless Canadians buy British-made goods in return. In that respect Canada's position is so far virtually the same as that of the United States. Although Canada has, like the United States, set up governmental machinery to finance a revival of export-import trade, the fundamental problem of deciding what kind of British goods we are going to accept in return for our major exports has not been tackled.

Weekly

Letter From Ottawa

By J. E. SMITH, M.P. York North

Monday as I write this letter, the debate on the motion and amendments on the adoption of the speech from the throne carries on with prospects of a division early this week. For years we have heard that much valuable time in parliament is wasted in superfluous oratory and while a few weeks here is too short a time to judge, my frank opinion is that there is at least some foundation for the charge. However, I still think the right of free expression is a bulwark of democracy which must be preserved.

In this parliament the government majority is comparatively small which means every member must be on the job in case of a division. The membership of the house numbers 245. On the right of the speaker, who is a Liberal, sit 128 Liberals, and on the left sit 67 Conservatives, 28 C.C.F. members, 13 Social Creditors, two Bloc Populaire and six other various independents. It will be noted the government majority over all opposition is small but at the same time it must be remembered that a solid opposition vote against it is unlikely on a major issue. It is unlikely for the reason that many in the opposition greatly prefer the government party to some of their fellows in opposition.

Among the main problems before this "transition parliament" are demobilization and rehabilitation of service personnel, reconversion of war industry to peacetime industry and international trade to provide market for our goods, particularly our agricultural and primary industry products. Our success in meeting these problems depends on not only what we do here in Canada but on what happens in the world. In this connection I might point out that many domestic policies which may seem hard to understand may have international implications which are difficult to explain at present.

I might point out that meat rationing, which is unpopular with a considerable section of public opinion, might in the long view and in the light of such international implications justify those who now claim it is necessary. It is becoming increasingly apparent that the problems of peace are going to require sacrifices as demanding as those made on the home front in time of war. All were glad to support an all out war effort, so in like manner let us support an all out effort for peace.

I am sorry my duties deny me the pleasure of meeting friends in North York and I am particularly disappointed that my duties here deny me the pleasure of welcoming home many of the boys from overseas. May I take this opportunity of extending to one and all the warmest of warm welcomes. To you I say it is the wish of the government and the wish of every member of the house that everything possible shall be done to help re-establish you and start you on your way to a happy and full life in the Canada you fought to save. If at any time I can be of any assistance to you write me at Ottawa and I will count it a pleasure and privilege to do anything I can.

I was saddened this week by news of the passing of J. M. Walton of Aurora. Mr. Walton, for many years a highly esteemed figure in the public life of North York, was a fine citizen and a true gentleman. I pay tribute to his fine Christian character and long public service, and to his bereaved wife and daughter extend sincere sympathy.

To repair the dykes in Holland, the Dutch may soon receive sections of Mulberry, the prefabricated British built port used by the Allies in the liberation of France. A model of Mulberry is now touring Canada on loan from the British War Office under the sponsorship of the Hudson's Bay Company in collaboration with the Engineering Institute of Canada.

THE COMMON ROUND By Isabel Inglis Colville

OTHER BEGINNINGS

"We live in a world of change." We have heard that so often that it has become trite and we say it, or accept it when said without much thought.

But sometimes it is brought home in a concrete way as it was to me last night when I listened to Mrs. Starr tell of her trip in a Hollinger bus to the city to be present at a meeting concerning the advent of a bus line on the fourth. A bus line, what shades of the past that thought evoked! My mind was jet propelled back some 24 years and I saw our family in a buggy on a dreary April day. If I told you how deep the mud was you'd be ready to put me up for a membership in the Munchausen club—if there is one.

We were coming to our new home and a deep silence reigned in the buggy. My mind went back to the paved roads we had left and the friendly homes companionably close. Here, to my unaccustomed eyes, the spaces between homes seemed very great and who knew whether the people would be friendly or even grow to like us.

That road we travelled for many years was a baffling proposition in spring, fall and winter. Now—we talk of a bus line! Also we or rather this road—absorbs much weekend traffic from Yonge St. and we go to sleep to the old time lullaby of cars, brakes, horns and more cars. And now—a bus line! We may even see our neighbors oftener. The party who made the first trip seemed to find a social side, even to a bus, and made contact with people who had lived not so far away, but who might as well have lived in Timbuctoo for all the knowledge they had of one another. So here's to the bus line—may it prosper!

Then there's another beginning—or many beginnings—being made. There is the new start in life that must be made by servicemen and women and war workers.

One wonders, looking back, that we all accepted so serenely the promises of adequate work for all who contributed to the war as fighters or workers. In the case of most, I don't say all of us, our memories were short; we could not visualize the same sort of treatment for returned men as after the last war. We really thought there was an advance in humanitarian government. When I remember what some returned men who took up farming went through after the last war, my blood boils when I think it may be repeated. I suppose "we, the people," are to blame to a certain extent for it is we who send our representatives to parliament and expect, maybe hope is a better word, that they will make their voices heard. But do we make clear WHAT we want heard?

The government says there are thousands of jobs—then why are thousands of men looking for job and why, if a war is on, can adequate wages be paid, but the moment the last gun is fired there is no money for wages? Are the country's resources like a dried up spring in peace time which needs the blast of war to cause it to flow? Or is the country dominated by men who, like Shylock, are after the last pound of flesh? Let us hope there will be another beginning—that of a just national economy which will at least provide justice to all.

A Canadian made National Film Board film dealing with the problems of world peace which aroused favorable international comment at San Francisco will be shown this fall in trade union locals throughout Canada by the National Labor Union Film Committee.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Nels Findlay, former Richmond Hill softballer who for the last few years has been pitching
star of Amalgamated Electric, Toronto intermediate "A"
champs, lost out in the finals
this year after going two rounds.
Findlay pitched well but not quite good enough to best Invi-ctus, the Ki-Y titleholders. Invi-ctus will now be paired with either Oshawa or Barrie Harmony Grills.

As a battery mate for the final series, Findlay had none other than that old smoothie of yesteryear, Harold Echlin. Echlin will be recalled as the catcher for Richmond Hill and five years ago was picked as first string catcher on our first all-star district softball club. A flight sergeant, he has been in the R.C.
A.F. the past three years and has recently returned from overseas.
Reports have it he has not lost a great deal of his skill either.
Next season we will doubtless see him in action with Richmond
Hill if the district softball circuit is re-organized.

Another favorite of the district who took part in the series was Flash Hollett of Boston Bruins fame who plays second base for Invictus. The former star of the Keswick team in the Lake Simcoe loop was one of the batting stand-outs of the series.
Hollett will shortly leave for training with the pro hockeyists again.

Tommy Jamieson, the fleet first-sacker of No. 23
B.T.C., Johnny Callanan, one of the best all-round athletes ever
to show at Newmarket camp,
and Roy Murden, who has been catching sensational ball for Lieut. Bob Kennedy's softballers
this year, wound up as members of the Ostranders club which showed in Newmarket earlier in the year and captured the Davis-ville senior B. league.

Gordy Wright, who has pitched many a softball tournament
at Mount Albert, Laskay and Zephyr, as well as starring for navy, pitched a no-hitter for the Ossies in the second to last game. Roselawns bowed out in the finals of the Wanless League to Toronto Teachers after being in front all season. The blame for the fifth and final game could not be laid at the door of the veteran, Teddy Bennett, who received spotty support from his mates and no support at the plate. The Roselawn club will hang up their spikes for the season, unless they receive word from Barrie concerning that series for the Patterson Trophy.
We understand the Barrie executive are in communication with the Hill boys, and by the time you read this a winner should be ready up north for competition.

Clint Robertson, star of the Newmarket camp basketball team who has been at Borden,
where he also looked mighty

good at the cage game, will enter Queen's University this fall and the debonair Robertson should find no trouble making a place in senior inter-collegiate basketball. Tiger Welsh, former Tri-County baseball leader, one of the heroes of the present war,
and present member of the Ontario legislature for the neighboring riding of Ontario-Muskoka, is now stationed at Camp Shilo, Man., and has recently been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Boris Tipoff, former defence star of Markham juniors, and last winter with the Brantford camp
team which played Newmarket, is working out with Teddy Reeve's Balm Beach club, and as he expects to be released from the paratroopers with which he is serving, in the near future will likely be seen in action in the O.R.F.U. Two years ago, Tipoff broke into senior ranks and looked mighty good before enlisting.

Owen Sound sportsmen have set an objective of $5,000 to enable them to buy equipment,
promote minor sport, and help pay coaching fees. They are selling $5 memberships in the association, and with that amount the purchaser can be assured of the same seat in the arena for both hockey and lacrosse. However, the admission is extra.

Jack Markle, former Syracuse
Toronto player, who as a member of the Greys played against Newmarket back in 1926, has been named as coach of this year's team, and he should do a good job. The idea developed by the Owen Sounders is a splendid one and a real opportunity is being missed in not raising sports funds in the communities in North York.

Sunday sport looms up as a topic in North Bay and the voters at North Bay are going to have a chance to vote on the matter come the next municipal election. Softball and other sports have been played at North Bay at odd times in recent years with no apparent harm to anyone. The usual arguments on both sides are being presented.
Those who favor Sunday afternoon sport point to golf clubs and tennis clubs being allowed to carry on without objection
and quote Quebec province, United States and the services as examples of no serious clash by way of morals, church going, recreation and health. Sooner or later the whole question is bound to be a matter for most communities to decide.

Hal Leary, the former Aurora-Sutton baseball mound maestro, and his son, young John Leary, one of the up and coming young players of the Briars club, took part in the Ontario
Golf Association's father and son tournament at the Toronto golf club last week, and while they didn't win top honors they made a mighty good showing. Golf is one sport where children and parents can find a common ground and our only regret is that we don't see enough of it.
If parents would only take time to take part in sport with their children, half these cases of juvenile delinquency we hear about would quickly be eradicated.

The work of the district Lions clubs must come in for some well merited praise. Despite the fact of war years and the additional temptations that seem to be placed in the path of young people each year, we venture to say juvenile delinquency is at its lowest peak in many years
throughout North York.

Bill Lowe, former Barrie junior who played with navy juniors in the local junior group two winters ago, is still in the service and stationed at Vancouver. Word comes from Calgary that Jimmy Lowe, former Aurora hockey and softball player who has five years' service with the R.C.A.F., is likely to play
senior hockey on the Pacific coast this winter. The Calgary R.C.A.F. centre has closed and Jimmy expects a discharge soon.

Cookstown Fair, which always attracted quite a crowd for racing and softball, will not be held this year, according to word just received. Inability to secure help is given as one of the reasons by the directors.

Cecil Norris of Barrie, former Aurora resident, is just about entitled to the title of Barrie's
No. 1 sports fan. Mr. Norris seldom misses a softball, baseball or hockey match in the district and in addition frequently jaunts down to Toronto to see baseball and wrestling. We don't need to mention that he is not slow on the draw when funds for the clubs are necessary.

Eddie Livingston, who will be especially remembered by the older sports fans, passed away in Toronto last week. Eddie was prominent as a sports writer and who can forget his famous Toronto Rowing Club teams just prior to the last war? One, an Allen Cup winner, included Gordon Meeking of Barrie in the line-up. In later years he had the Toronto Lions club and among others, Graham "Tiny"
Teasdale was one of his boys.
When that club became defunct,
Newmarket juniors purchased the credit. Fame is a fleeting thing for hardly a line was given

MAGISTRATE'S COURT
$50 Or Month Penalty
On Tire Theft Charge

Lloyd St. John, charged with dangerous driving, asked for and received a second remand from Sept. 21 to Sept. 28 at magistrate's court here Friday. Magistrate W. E. McIlveen presided.

Harley Frizel pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy which was later dismissed and was found guilty on a charge of making excessive noise with his motor car. Constable Farquhar, Schoenberg, testified that he had been called out to quieten accused who was racing his motor and yelling at 3 a.m. Mrs. Jean Hill said that the noise made by accused had frightened her children. Accused was fined five dollars.

Roger Workman was fined $10
and costs on a charge of hunting without a license. John Engel was also fined $10 and costs for illegally discharging his gun.
Game Warden Ernest Prosser, East Gwillimbury, laid the charges.

Richard Godfrey, who had been tried last week on a charge of inflicting grievous bodily harm was fined five dollars and costs and warned by the magistrate not to appear in court again. "Past occurrences have a habit of repeating themselves,"
the magistrate warned.

Cpl. Wilfred Rose, R.C.A.F., tried last week on a charge of theft of an auto, was convicted on the lesser charge of taking a car without the owner's consent.
Since Constable William Hill,
who had laid the first charge was absent, sentence was withheld to next week to give the officer time to swear out the new charge.

"I think that the charge of car theft is too strong," said Magistrate McIlveen. "I am reducing the charge to that of taking a car without the owner's consent." "I am serving notice that while I have taken the accused's war record into consideration, as far as I am concerned, I will be less lenient in the future," said Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong.

"War service does not entitle a man to run wild. He has certain responsibilities and he must live up to them the same as anyone else."

Saying that there was not the slightest doubt in his mind that he was guilty, Magistrate Mc-Ilveen fined Chesley Sweet, Newmarket, $50 and costs or one month in jail when finding him guilty of the theft of a tire from Howard Dennis. Last week, Mr.
Dennis said that the tire had been stolen from his car while berry-picking. The tire had

THE NEWMARKET ERA AND EXPRESS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20TH, 1945 THREE

been found on accused's car. Mr. Dennis testified that accused had been in the berry patch near him on the day the tire was stolen.

"I bought the tire from Gar.
Hamilton in Sutton," accused said. "I was going to Jackson's Point when a tire blew out. I bought the tire from Hamilton to replace the blown one. I didn't know it belonged to anyone else until the police came." He denied having taken the tire from
Mr. Dennis' car.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vaughan both testified they had been present when accused bought the tire from Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton testified that he had not sold any tires to accused. Clarence Sedore testified that he had been present when accused had bought two tires and a tube from witness at an earlier date.

Lorne C. Lee, defence counsel, suggested that Hamilton's evidence was not valid since he would not have a record of the tire's sale and of a consequence would deny the sale. "On the other hand, three witnesses testified to sales by Hamilton to accused," he argued. "I submit there should be a conviction and a very substantial fine imposed," Mr. Armstrong said. "There is no question that the tire accused had was the one stolen from Mr.
Dennis."

"I don't believe the witnesses and I am certain you took the tire," Magistrate McIlveen told accused.

The Era and Express may be purchased in Newmarket at Spillotte's, Best's, Bolton's, Campbell's, Bell's and Carruther's.

A. G. McDONALD WEDS IN TORONTO

Pink and white gladioli and fern decorated the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, when Vera, daughter of Mrs. M. Huck, Toronto, and the late Mr. Huck, became the bride of Allan G. McDonald, son of Mr. Charles E. McDonald, Sept. 1. Rev. Canon C. A. Armstrong performed the ceremony and Mr. O. James played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. F. Roulston, was dressed in a gown of broad white satin, made with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt, sweeping into a train. Handmade lace, which had been brought from Belgium by her father, was used for trimming. Her fingertip veil was of fine net, held to her head with a pointed lace headpiece. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis, with a sprig of white heather from Scotland. She wore a single strand of matched pearls and tiny pearl earrings, the gift of the groom.

Miss Edith Roulston, as maid-of-honor, wore a floor-length gown of blue taffeta, and carried a bouquet of break-of-day gladioli and white gladioli. Miss Ina McDonald, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, similarly attired in pink taffeta, with bouquet of break-of-day gladioli and blue cornflowers. Both wore halcyon-type bonnets in taffeta, with velvet ribbon streamers. Little Miss Heather McDonald, as flower girl, was in long yellow dotted Swiss, with a colonial bouquet of mauve baby gladioli and yellow statice. The groom was attended by Mr. Harvey Duxbury, of Toronto, and the ushers were Mr. Norman Addley, of Fort William, and Mr. Bill Stevens, of Toronto. During the signing of the register, Miss L. Banks sang.

The reception followed at a Toronto restaurant, with the bride's mother receiving in an American beauty rose dress and corsage of peach gladioli. She was assisted by the step-mother of the groom, who was in wine crepe, with corsage of peach gladioli. For their trip to Niagara and a cruise among the Thousand Islands to Montreal, the bride donned a Royal Blue dressmaker suit, with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Allan G. McDonald, son of Mr. Charles E. McDonald, Newmarket; married Miss Vera Huck, daughter of Mrs. M. Huck, Toronto, and the late Mr. Huck, at the Church of the Redeemer in Toronto Sept. 1.

MIDGETS OUSTED FROM O.B.A. PLAY-OFF RACE

By ORVILLE GANTON

By piling up a 12-run lead in the first inning, Columbus boys eliminated Newmarket midgets from the O.B.A. play-offs here recently. The visitors fell on Broughton in the first canto for five hits and four walks, while his team mates kicked in with four bad errors. From then on it was a good ball game with the final score being 15-6.

Bush started Sherman then brought in Hop Hemphill in whose direction Toronto Maple Leafs are casting covetous glances. Doolittle had a homer and Clement a three-bagger.

Last Saturday at Toronto's Christie pits, Newmarket booted away a five-run lead and passed up a rosey chance to jump into the lead in the series. Big Ken Broughton had the city champions completely stymied but his infield was away below par. They had six costly errors which gave the Columbus gang five unearned runs. The left-handed batters led the hit parade, McHale and Doolittle had two for four. Mac Clement lined a screaming double over third to score three runs.

Jimmy Rutledge brought the fans to their feet goggled-eyed when he leaped high to spear Bolton's line drive and double Patoff off first with a perfect peg; it was a picture play. After Columbus had filled the sacks in the seventh on two errors and one hit, Joe Goldhar cleaned the decks with a tremendous wallop inside the third base line.

It was a grand series. Columbus boys are a smart, well-coached club. Unfortunately a few rabid fans gave a very disgraceful display of anti-semitism. We hope the visitors will not take away a bad impression of the town as a whole.

Newmarket: McHale rf, McGee lb, Rutledge ss, Clement c, Doolittle cf, Little 3b, Jewett lf, Thoms 2b, Broughton p, Stundten, Grant.

Columbus: Rico 2b, Halas lb, Rosen ss, Bera cf, Patoff 3b, Honsberger lf, Bolton rf, Imonti c, Sherman p, Hemphill.

Another policyholder reports...

"I AM A BANKER, the father of a son, and a policyholder in The Mutual Life of Canada. Many years ago my father was also a banker, and who saw directly how life insurance can benefit men and women in many ways, impressed on me the value of life insurance. He obtained a policy when I was a child, and when I started to work in a bank in the twenties I purchased another $1,000 policy with The Mutual Life of Canada."

"WHEN I MARRIED I insured again, for a larger amount to give my wife the protection she needed. I chose 20 Payments, preferring that plan because I have to make only twenty payments of the same amount, during best earning years, and then my insurance will be paid-up. When I am ready to retire I can, if I wish, use the cash of my insurance to purchase a monthly income."

"Now, from my own experience as a banker, I am realizing the wisdom of my father's advice and am teaching my son the value of life insurance."

YOU CAN'T GAMBLE WITH INFLATION

THE DICE ARE LOADED AGAINST YOU

Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation. It's not been just good luck. Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

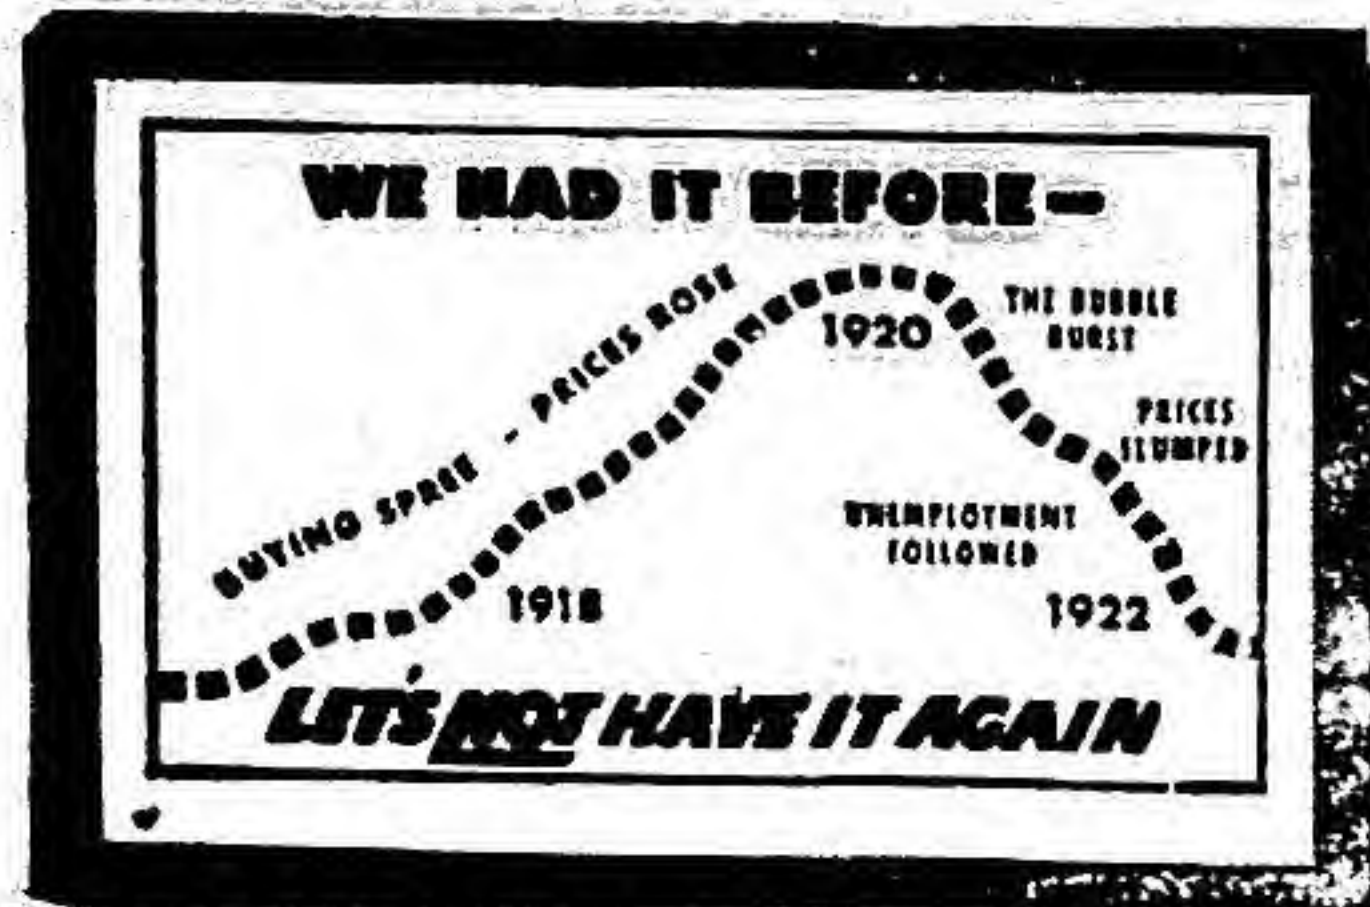

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands. With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger. It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now. It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices. That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid. Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO—Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods. Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates. Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing. Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Shur-Gain Builds 'Em Up

The young pullet is in many ways like a delicate piece of machinery. You can push a machine to its maximum limit and get more work out of it—but a breakdown under the strain is inevitable. You can push your pullets for maximum early production, before they have developed adequate stamina and endurance, but they too will burn out early and be worthless when the time comes when production is most urgently needed.

Bring your young flock into production easily, while feeding them a ration primarily intended to build strong bodies and lots of endurance—and that means feed them SHUR-GAIN Growing Mash, the feed that makes maximum growth at lowest cost come true. Then when your pullets are ready for the laying pens, the change over to SHUR-GAIN Laying Mash encourages production AFTER adequate constitutions have been built up by SHUR-GAIN Growing Mash. SHUR-GAIN Growing Mash builds strong birds. SHUR-GAIN Growing Mash builds lots of egg capacity.

Memorial Book Given Approval In Local Poll

A few weeks ago, the memorial book committee of the Newmarket Veterans' Association sent out a questionnaire to 100 Newmarket citizens whom, the committee felt, represented a cross section of town opinion. They were asked whether or not they were in favor of the memorial book and if they were, what suggestions would they make regarding its accomplishment.

To date, 26 of the 100 questionnaires have been received. It is hoped that all replies will be in by Sept. 23 as the committee plans to present a consensus on the book at the annual meeting of the Veterans' organization.

Some excerpts from the replies sent in follow:

"Yes, if got or put together to make interesting reading."

"Yes, if it could be got up at a moderate price."

"Personally I think the project you have under consideration a splendid one and see no reason why the proposition would not receive the wholehearted support from all citizens of the town and district. It would sure fill a great need in the community and be a fitting tribute to our returning servicemen and those who made the supreme sacrifice."

"I do not think a great deal of it because unless prepared under extremely competent and impartial hands it would likely do nothing but extol the merits of the civilians and give but passing reference to the men in actual combat."

"I feel that the people of Newmarket would appreciate the publishing of a memorial book as a small token to the servicemen and local organizations as well as the veterans of the last war for their efforts on our behalf. It would convey to them our thanks, perhaps better than any other way."

"I am sure it would be well worth while. I suggest that it contain the names of all Newmarket boys who served with branch of service and rank, etc."

"I think a memorial book for the town would be a grand thing to have, especially for the boys and girls who have been over there. I would suggest a book be presented to each of them when they arrive home."

"Absolutely a proper suggestion. Do not let it drop."

"I am sure it would be a grand thing and a worthwhile project. I am sure the majority of people would be glad to buy one and at the same time a copy could be put in the library for younger people to refer to."

"Regarding publishing a war memorial book I think it would be a fine idea to have a definite record of the historic facts and memoranda of all worthy knowledge of Newmarket's war effort. A book should be the adequate form for such a record."

"Most certainly and willing to co-operate in any way possible."

"I consider that a war memorial book would be a decidedly worthwhile effort and I think the Newmarket Veterans' Association are to be highly congratulated on their willingness to assume this important work as it will certainly take considerable time and effort."

"It is a good idea that someone has not forgotten men that were here and are gone and a fine thing for the young ones coming on."

"I certainly do. Who has a better right to a memorial than the men who gave their all to save our community, men who gave up all that is dear to any man, home, loved ones, life. There could be no greater sacrifice than this. I would be very proud to own such a book."

"I should imagine it might prove to be a splendid idea and a worthwhile venture and one worthy of careful consideration and study."

W.C.T.U. NEWS

THE ALCOHOL ILLUSION

By Leonora Starr, Press Secretary, Newmarket W.C.T.U.

The following is a synopsis of the teaching on alcohol in the public health book prepared by the late Rev. Dr. A. Philip Brace when he was field secretary of the Sons of Temperance of Ontario:

It is strikingly clear that the drinking of alcohol lessens one's self-control. Its effects upon the nerves which control thought, speech and actions are shown in making a man more lively, talkative and boisterous. The nerves which usually act as brakes are not working properly, so that a person under the influence of alcohol becomes dangerous, just as a speeding car is dangerous when its brakes are out of repair.

Alcohol is shown to have a bad effect upon the muscular work as well as upon the mental work. The Boston laboratory of the Carnegie Institute notes the following results of their studies on the effects of alcohol on trained typists. Small doses of alcohol produced such a depressing effect that there was a decline in the amount of work done. It was slower and became increasingly inaccurate and less legible, showing that the action of alcohol had decreased their efficiency. They however believed that they had done very well for their senses had been blunted.

Lord D'Abernon, of the British Medical Research Council, says that "alcohol gives the worker a false impression of having done his work with unusual speed and success, whereas impartial examination shows that both accuracy and regularity are not up to the standard."

Because alcohol affects the memory and impairs the judgment, making mistakes and errors more likely, many of the great carrying companies will not employ captains and other officials for duty by land, sea or air, who are known to be addicted to drinking alcohol even when off duty.

By research it has been found on a conservative estimate, "the industrial accident risk is about three times as high among drinkers as among men in general." More accidents happen to men who drink than to total abstainers.

Directors of athletics will not tolerate alcoholic habits during training and give preference at any time to those who do not touch alcoholic drinks. They know that it impairs the quick judgment required at the critical moment, hinders team play, reduces the strength and staying power, speed and accuracy so much needed for success. Alcohol has defeated more "stars" than have more skilled opponents.

Prof. L. F. Barker is quoted as saying "chronic poisoning from alcohol may be very injurious to the nervous and mental functions especially in persons predisposed to nervous breakdown." More than 20 percent of the males in our asylums for the insane are there through the effects of alcohol.

According to the findings of the British Medical Research Council, "alcohol is a depressant, it definitely weakens the powers of resistance to disease, and even if taken moderately is not favorable to long life." In this connection, Dr. Eugene Fisk of New York, speaking in Toronto, said "one of the studies of life insurance risks covering 286,000 lives showed that there was an increased death rate among moderate users of alcohol as a beverage of 19 percent, and an increased death rate among daily users of spirits of 66 percent." What wonder then that life insurance experts avoid the moderate user of alcohol as a less desirable risk than the abstainer.

Prof. Laitinen of Finland studied the results of alcohol upon the community for seven years and found that the children of the non-drinkers were taller and weighed more at the same age and were freer from disease than the children of moderate drinkers.

It is surely foolish in the extreme to have anything to do with alcohol. Health and happiness have been so often shattered by its use that the best thing one can do with all alcoholic drinks is to leave them alone.

Water quenches our thirst and satisfies the body's needs. Alcohol does neither. The best drink then for all is water.

MOUNT PLEASANT

There was no service at the Presbyterian church on Sunday, it being anniversary at Sutton Presbyterian church where services were held both morning and evening.

Mrs. E. Miller of 7th con. is again in Toronto General hospital for medical treatment.

Many farmers and their friends took time off to attend the Lindsay Fair.

Freeman Stephen's police dog may not chase the next porcupine he sees. Last Thursday he had to pay a visit to the 'vet' who administered an anaesthetic and then extracted many porcupine quills from the dog's face.

Mrs. White, sister of Obee Peters, was a visitor at Ross Stiles' home on Monday.

TO Youth

BELONGS TO-MORROW

The youth of Canada are preparing for new fields of enterprise. In University hall and lecture-room young Canadians are training for the tasks of life.

Many of them are veterans of battles with those evil forces which sought to destroy our way of life. But, today, their foe is ignorance. Their ally is the wisdom of the ages. And their objective is the re-building of a shattered world.

This titanic task will require courage, tenacity and vision. Canada's youth have demonstrated that they have these qualities and will play their part in fashioning new foundations for world progress.

For 90 years the Bank of Toronto has kept pace with the progressive aims of new generations of Canadian youth. To-day, we shall continue to fortify youth's resolution by co-operating in new, forward-looking enterprises.

Liquor Traffic Said Menace To Nation By Temperance Sec.

"The liquor traffic with the possible exception of cancer is the most dangerous menace to the life of our nation," Dr. C. W. DeMille, secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation, said Sunday at Aurora United church.

Dr. DeMille has just returned from the Yale school of alcoholic studies, a group comprised of scientists, temperance leaders, teachers and those who control the manufacture of liquor, and he based his statement on statistics which showed of per 1,000 capita north of the Rio Grande, two percent suffered from tuberculosis, five percent from venereal disease, seven percent cancer, and 13 percent were classified as problem drinkers.

"The liquor interests are trying to make their trade respectable by advertising and gifts," he said. "They dislike the phrase 'liquor traffic' and would have us refer to it as 'the liquor industry.' They say true temperance lies in moderation and that human beings should be taught how to drink. The duty of the church is clear. We must teach people not to drink."

He charged alcoholism with being the cause of the increased accidents, an incentive to crime, an irritant responsible for increased juvenile delinquency, one of the main causes for the spread of social diseases, a

Rev. W. J. Stewart Named To Head Clothing Drive

At a well-attended meeting in the Aurora council chambers on Thursday, Rev. W. J. Stewart was named to head the Aurora national clothing collection committee. Mayor Ross Linton presided and stressed the urgent need for a good committee in order that Aurora may do its part in seeing that all clothes not being used are sent overseas to aid people less fortunate.

The committee is planning a house-to-house canvass and as one member put it, "There probably isn't one household in Aurora that hasn't some surplus clothing they will be glad to donate".

The collection will be held from Oct. 1 to Oct. 20 and the committees named were: publicity, Rev. Roy Hicks, chairman, Mrs. H. E. Lubbock; collection, Harry Jones, chairman, Charles Copland; depot, Reeve C. E. Sparks, chairman, William Morris.

In charge of the depot will be Alfred Willingham and Major Arthur Whitfield. Represented at the meeting were the Aurora town council, Aurora Lions club, United church, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Navy League and the Aurora board of trade.

York Lions Bantams Fired From Playdowns

York Lions bantams bowed out of the Ontario baseball playdowns last week with two losses to Bob Abate's smooth working and more experienced Elizabeth playground nine. Last Tuesday they dropped a 7-5 decision in Aurora and on Thursday were snowed under 22-5 in Toronto.

The Aurora game might have been won with any luck. Kyle, Atkinson and Sheardown led a last-inning attack which just fell short. Morley Petch pulled off a sensational second-inning catch which resulted in a smart double play in the second.

At the Christie Pits, the district youngsters were obviously suffering from stage fright and turned in their worst effort of the season. Black on the winners mound was touched for ten bingles but Simmons, Kyle and Atkinson yielded 23 hits. Ron Simmons and Lorne Sheardown looked mighty good even in defeat as did Keith Kyle.

Delroy Babcock and Grant Nighswander handled the district team well and the lads are deserving of credit for their showing. Joe Spring, Toronto, and Bob Bell handled the series effectively. The line-up read: Keith Kyle, c., Ron Simmons and Jack Atkinson, p. and 3b., Bill Brown, 1b., Morley Petch, 2b., Gerry Simmons, ss., Doug Moore, utility, Ralph Rank, Tracy, Barrager, Lorne Sheardown, Silvia Steffan, Sonny Charles, Jim Cook, outfield.

He was born at Lunenburg, Ont., and resided here in his youth, his father being an Aurora merchant at the present site of the Dominion Store. He was for 17 years a dispatcher with the Canadian Pacific Railway and then entered the life insurance field, rising to the position of inspector for the Dominion of Canada General Insurance Company. Upon his retirement from business two years ago, he purchased a home in Aurora.

He was a member of the Church of England and Transporation Lodge, A.F. and A.M., Toronto. The funeral service was held from his residence on Saturday with Rev. Canon F. J. Fife in charge, assisted by Rev. Roy Hicks. Interment was at Aurora cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, the former Florence Hamill, one daughter, Helen, and two sons, PO Smith Pruner and LAC Bruce Pruner. PO Pruner flew from Virginia while LAC Pruner was on 30-day leave at the time of his father's death.

Tpr. Lloyd Watson, who was twice wounded overseas and returned home last spring, has received his discharge. He is the son of Mrs. John Watson.

Seaman Murray Hunt, R.C.N.V.R., of Richmond Hill, a former member of C Coy., Queen's York Rangers, is a member of the crew of one of the Canadian vessels now in Japanese waters off Tokyo.

Gnr. Howard "Drummer" Lloyd, who was expected home from overseas last week, his family receiving an official notice, is still in England but is expected to arrive home late this month or in early October.

WALKER TROPHY WON BY HOME QUARTET

An Aurora foursome composed of Keith Nisbet (captain), Doug Clarke, Eric Bilbrough and Stewart Henry captured the coveted Walker trophy from a field of 12 teams in keenly contested matches at the Highlands golf club last Saturday.

Three teams from Barrie, four teams from Lake Wilcox, and five teams from Aurora competed. The matches were on medal competition with gross less handicap counting. Stew. Henry, who was hot as a firecracker, fired a gross 79 which, with the handicap, made him low net for the day. The visitors were well pleased with the conditions, of the fairways and greens.

Last year the trophy was won by the Lake Wilcox team so the win was all the sweeter for the Aurora men this year.

HAPPY VALLEY FIRE DESTROYS COTTAGE

Aurora Fire Brigade was called to a fire on the 6th con. King, in the "Happy Valley" region, early Saturday morning. A summer cottage of frame construction owned by a Toronto resident had caught fire when an oil stove exploded. The owner tried to stop the blaze but water spread the oil, and as the nearest telephone was a mile away, the building and its contents were a total loss when the brigade arrived. The loss is estimated at $2,500. No one was injured.

Mrs. Sarah C. Crossley Was Active In Church

One of the district's oldest and best known residents, Mrs. Sarah Cook Crossley, widow of the late J. Whiting Crossley, died at King Friday. She was a member of King United church and had been prominent in the affairs of the church. Funeral service was conducted by Rev. M. Jenkinson on Monday with interment at King cemetery. She is survived by three daughters, Lily M. and Maud, King, and Mrs. Clay Ward, Toronto, and two sons, Hugh, King, and Dean, Regina, Sask.

The Era and Express may be purchased in Aurora at Home, Morning's, Whitelaw's and Willis.

M. M. AWARDED SGT. G. JASPER

Announcement has been made by the department of national defence that 25-year-old Sgt. George Edward Jasper, Gormley, has been awarded the Military Medal for gallantry in action. Sgt. Jasper enlisted from Gormley in 1941 with the Canadian Armored Corps and has been overseas since the late fall of that year.

His citation reads: "Sgt. Jasper of the Sixth Canadian Armored Regiment landed in France on D-day and has fought with his regiment across Belgium, Holland and Germany. He has consistently displayed determination and aggressiveness and courage to a high degree. On April 12, 1945, 'B' Squadron, Sixth Canadian Armored Regiment, was supporting 'D' Company, 48th Highlanders of Canada, in its attack on Hoven, the hinge of the German defences before Apeldoorn. Sgt. Jasper, who was a crew commander in three troops, received a call for assistance from an isolated tank of four troops in the village. He immediately moved forward but was halted by an 88 m.m. gun on his left. Air burst showered the area.

"Realizing the vital importance of taking Hoven he charged across a stretch of open ground to the village. His arrival and support enabled the town to be quickly and finally cleared and thus made possible the final attack on Apeldoorn. This type of courage was again exhibited by Sgt. Jasper the next morning on the approaches of Teuge. An open stretch of at least two kilometres exposed most of the squadron to the fire of an anti-tank gun on the right flank. The first shot glanced off the ground beside his tank. Realizing that the tanks behind were in jeopardy he stood his ground. Immediately traversing right, despite two more shots at his tanks, he spotted the enemy gun and knocked it out with direct hits.

"As a result of his cool and daring decision in allowing his tank to be a sitting target, Sgt. Jasper, without a doubt, saved not only many lives and tank casualties but also cleared the line of advance and enabled the attack to push on. The above examples are typical of this non-commissioned officer's gallantry. He has been a never failing source of inspiration to his men and has always contributed materially to the success of all operations in which he has fought."

Many Mourn Passing Of Jesse M. Walton, Was District Figure

North York mourned the loss of one of its best known sons on Sunday when Jesse M. Walton was carried to his last resting place. Aurora United church was filled to capacity and all day Friday and Saturday, hundreds from all walks of life came to the family residence to pay tribute to the deceased.

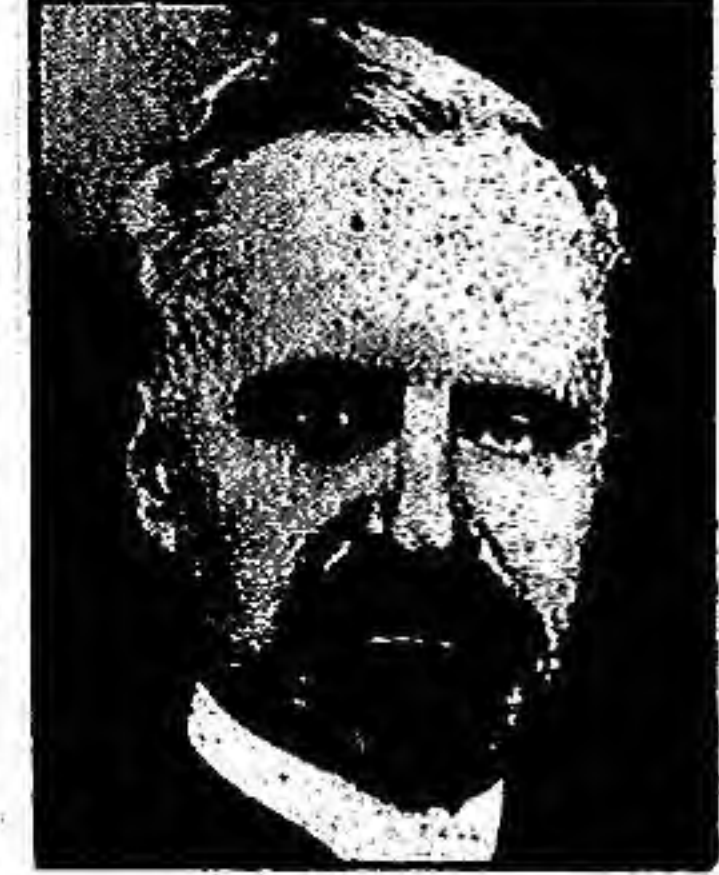

Mr. Walton was born in King township in 1867, his family having come to Canada as United Empire Loyalists from Pennsylvania shortly after the American Revolutionary war. His grandfather, Jesse Walton, settled first in New Brunswick, but the family moved to King township early in the last century. He attended public school at Kettleby, and then went to Pickering college.

He decided upon a business career and got his early experience as a general merchant at Kettleby, meanwhile maintaining a wide interest in public affairs, historical data, and the cause of temperance. In 1900, he came to Aurora and opened a private bank which flourished on the site of the Imperial Bank to which he sold in 1920. Following the sale of the bank, he opened a real estate, insurance, conveyancing and investment business, retiring only a few months ago. He was a justice of the peace for over 50 years.

A keen student of municipal law, he was for 20 years treasurer of the township of King. He served on practically every civic body in Aurora, being mayor for many years, his last term of office being in 1940. He was one of the founders of the Aurora Board of Trade, and the first president. The improvement of Yonge St. was one of his main interests. Both in this war and last, he played an important role in the North York victory loan campaigns and it was during the loan last fall that his strenuous efforts told on his health.

A life-long Liberal and intimate friend of the party greats, he held in his time most offices in the North York Liberal association and contested the riding of North York unsuccessfully for his party twice against the late T. Herbert Lennox and once against William Keith.

Mr. Walton was a prolific and accurate writer on historical matters and spent many of his later years amassing information. He had several books to his credit. He was also a collector of curios and antiques, and until early this year, when he sold his Kettleby residence, Brunswick Hall, he had maintained a wide and varied collection. He was a member of the York

the deceased by the Toronto press.

Paul West, former Aurora-Bradford lacrosse star who came back from overseas a few months ago with a decoration, is now a personnel councillor with the R.C.A.F. and stationed in Quebec province. Lorne, to give him his right name, is well suited for this highly important post in these days of going back to civvy street. Morley Kinne, manager of the Woodbridge-Vaughan telephone company, visited the taxidermist recently just so he could prove for evermore the story about the one fish that didn't get away. At Keswick, Morley bagged a pike which measured 43 inches and weighed 16 pounds, one of the biggest nabbed in recent years, according to the natives up north.

While we are on the subject of fishing, Wilfred Galbraith, formerly of Zephyr and Aurora and now residing at Dundalk, Grey County, where he conducts a hardware business, has a new system for collecting bait quickly. He got two metal posts, wired them to an electric plug early in this year, placed them in the ground about four feet apart and attached the plug to a light socket. The worms come to the surface as a result of the shock. Since the system works either at day or night, Wilf gets all the worms he needs for an average fishing trip in about ten minutes. That's a good thing for you fellows to try out next year.

Orchids to the kid ball players of North York for their showing against the two experienced Toronto crews, Columbus Boys mid-gets and Lizzies bantams. The district teams made it close in the first game in both series, in fact they might easily have won. The Toronto lads romped to victory in both of the second encounters and if a third game had been necessary in either bracket there is not much doubt as to the ultimate outcome. The kids from the Queen City were about a year further advanced than our lads, a natural thing to expect. Individually they didn't possess so much more class but they did have plenty of practice and best of all, tough opposition and plenty of it this year: Carman Bush, coach of the Columbus team, and Bob Abate of the Lizzies are both oldtimers when it comes to working with kids. They know all the angles.

They have this advantage over district coaches when handling teams that they possess unlimited players to choose from which means no weak spot. It enables them to crack the whip when players consider themselves invaluable or stay away from practices. Coaches Gunn, Van Zant, Babbcock, Nighswander, Holloway and the rest have a limited number of boys to work with and they have to do the best they can with the talent available. They needn't take a back seat to the Torontonians when all the handicaps they work under are considered. On several occasions in the pinches the Toronto boys looked as bewildered as their country cousins. Boys like Loring Doolittle, Mac Clement, Bill McGhee, Pee-wee Rutledge, Keith Kyle, Lorne Sheardown, Silvia Steffan, Ronnie Simmons and one or two more would not find it difficult to make the Toronto teams.

Tony Polito of Baers senior team, a smart senior ball player of the present day, and Joe Spring, once the ace amateur tosser of Ontario with Toronto Oslers, handled the umpiring assignments along with Bob Bell and they made the lads play ball. We understand Polito came in for some unwarranted heckling at Newmarket which is to be regretted.

Next year presents a problem that should be solved now. Early in the year the league agreed to drop the older series next year and continue with only bantam baseball, feeling the older boys would be able to look after themselves another year. It has been suggested that intermediate baseball is due for a return. This may or may not be true. In most localities there are or will be the hardy remnants of an intermediate team and it is suggested that the older boys will be able to catch on with them. Most of the boys who will be too old for the midget series could still play juvenile and with all due respect to their ability, the jump to intermediate is a bit too soon. Another year's experience and there would be plenty of material ready for intermediate company.

Bill Holloway, the energetic secretary of the Lions club league, has a splendid idea for next season. He suggests every club in the league enter two teams. One of the bantam age, the other composed of midgets and juveniles. There would be two groups with Stouffville, Milliken and Markham in one group and Aurora, Richmond Hill and Newmarket in the other. Each town would take over one team for the O.B.A. playdowns, bantam, midget and juvenile, and would have the pick of the players from the other towns who were in the same age category. The teams would all be entered in the O.B.A. and in the first round of the play-offs the two sections would meet.

This solution seems to meet the situation pretty well, allowing the lads who are older to play in their own company and still producing younger players and giving the boys a nice easy travelling arrangement for the first round. The geographical positions of the two groups lends itself readily to each centre entering a team in one of the three minor O.B.A. series and with every municipality entered in the provincial playdowns, the interest would be keener. Newmarket, juvenile, Aurora, midget, and Richmond Hill, bantam, for instance, would be a very attractive arrangement for any Yonge St. group formed. Bill intends to present his plan to the executive when it meets and it will doubtless provoke some lively discussion. We hope the boys who have carried on baseball all season will be remembered with a dinner or small presentation by the citizens of each centre before the snow flies.

Incidentally, benefit games have been played by married men's teams from Markham and fine game for the C.W.A.C. nifties but didn't receive the best support in the world.

Ben Cox, Jr., former Aurora lacrosse and hockey player as well as one of the leading track stars at Aurora high, is flying out of Nakina in Northern Ontario these days and on Saturday middle-aged it with Miss Jean Stewart, a Toronto de-lovely, at the northern centre. Best wishes are extended to the happy couple.

Capt. Wes Niles came into his own this week with the announcement that he had been awarded the Military Cross. The former Newmarket Redman hurler and one of our particular friends, enlisted in 1940 and hurled for Newmarket camp for two years. He was commissioned in 1943. He was mentioned in dispatches earlier this year. Wes is quoted as having "unceasing eagerness to engage the enemy" and "his inspiring confidence under most difficult and hazardous conditions, contributed in a large measure to the most successful operation of the Sixth Canadian Infantry Brigade against firmly-held enemy positions at Kirchhatten and Sandhatten, Germany. He was with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders on April 29 when he went forward personally through an area he knew was mined, under heavy fire and succeeded in establishing his two platoons. "By his total disregard for his personal safety and his untiring efforts to get the maximum effect from his weapons, Capt. Niles did much to assure the success of the brigade operations." Sports fans everywhere will rejoice at the award to one of North York's most popular sportsmen.

One rival Del is likely to have to beat to the draw is another former sailor and ex-Aurora junior, Scotty Mair. Scotty has been going great guns in hockey in the silent service and of course has the advantage over Beaumont of senior experience. Mair was originally on the reserve list of the Leafs but apparently there is some doubt about his present status, however we expect to see him trot out with the Maple Leafs. It will be interesting to see what the outcome will be. Scotty has to make the bigtime soon if he is ever to do it, while Beaumont has the advantage of years on his side. If both boys had been free last winter they would easily have made the grade but this season is going to be different with so many boys coming back from the services.

A cut is supposed to come back to the amateur clubs who developed the players and if either Beaumont or Mair make the grade Aurora junior hockey club (presently defunct) would be entitled to its share. There is a certain fee paid by the professional circuits according to whether it is major or minor pro to the C.A.H.A. who take a cut and turn it over to the branch (the O.H.A. in this case), who in turn take a cut and turn the balance over to the clubs. At least that is the way it is said to work. Actually, we understand that few of the O.H.A. clubs have ever received very much. What happened to that fee coming to Aurora for Billy Wilson who turned professional with Buffalo last winter? We are writing to Secretary Billy Hewitt of the O.H.A. to see what the score is. As we understand it, Young Rangers, South Porcupine and possibly Toronto navy would also be entitled to a share. Aurora club officials who are still available should check into the matter and see if the Aurora club is entitled to any remuneration. If Wilson had his say in the matter we know which club he would like the proceeds to go to.

George Goring of Allandale, president of the York-Simcoe softball league which hasn't operated for three years, writes Doug Hedger, president of the Centre Simcoe league, to say that the A. E. Patterson trophy will not be placed on the line for the proposed series between Richmond Hill Roselawns and either Allandale C.N.R. or Angus. The trophy belongs to the league, he says, and since this isn't the regular league, the old executive represented by Mr. Goring feel it shouldn't be up for competition. He further says the A. E. Patterson trophy, donated by an Allandale druggist, was originally meant to be for competition in Simcoe County only and that the inclusion of Newmarket, Richmond Hill and Aurora was not covered by the original grant of the trophy although both Newmarket and Richmond Hill have held it.

This seems all a bit strange since it would seem the logical thing to get the trophy in competition again and the old league started. We venture to say if the executive were called together, the trophy would be placed up for competition. In any case, the two teams, if they decide to meet, can play for a mythical title or winner take all the gate basis.

Newmarket camp soccer team have drawn Bowers A.C. in the first round of the T. and D. senior play-offs. R.S.M. Syd Bowman has his playmates in fine fettle and is eagerly looking forward to the test. Herb Farley brought the girls ball team from Lansing (his home district) to Aurora to play the Aurora R.C.O.C.-Newmarket camp gals last week and the visitors took a neat 7-1 decision in the Aurora town park. The Lansing girls, who engaged in P.W.S.U. playdowns, are about on a par with Jack McDonald's Orioles according to those who have followed femme softball this season. An interesting series could doubtless be arranged without any difficulty by prexy Del Gibney of the Newmarket circuit. Anne Schroder once again twirled a

In Memoriam

Brice—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Walter Brice, who passed away Sept. 21, 1943.
And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory I shall always keep.
Ever remembered by his wife.

Brice—Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet.
You were the kind of a father
Your loved ones would never forget.
Always remembered by Miriam, Jack and Marion.

Brice—Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Ever remembered by Alice and family.

Brice—Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never dies,
He dwells in a land of glory
Mid the blue and the gold of the skies.
Lovingly remembered by Sally, Howard and family.

Johnston—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Fred E. Johnston, who passed away Sept. 22, 1941.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break but all in vain,
To have to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Sadly missed by his wife, Lillian and son, Elmer.

Knott—In loving memory of a dear mother, Adda Knott, who passed away Sept. 19, 1932.
Calm and peaceful she is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain;
We who loved her sadly miss her
But trust in God to meet again.
Sadly missed by husband and family.

Prest—In loving memory of our only son, Sgt. R. B. "Bruce" Prest, R156163, R.C.A.F., who was so suddenly taken from us Sept. 20, 1944, in his 26th year.
Come in my garden,
See in perfect bloom
The flower you loved so dearly
But thought I plucked too soon,
Then shall you know the reason,
Though you know it not today,
Why in his sweet manhood
I took your son away.
Deeply mourned by mother and dad.

Selby—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, Wellington B. Selby, who passed away so suddenly Sept. 20, 1940.
A beautiful memory dearer than gold
Of a husband whose worth can never be told,
Alone and unseen he stands at my side
And whispers don't grieve dear, death can not divide.
Lovingly remembered by wife, Edith.

Selby—In loving memory of our dear father, Wellington B. Selby, who passed away so suddenly Sept. 20, 1940.
Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face.
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Sadly missed by his children, Leonard, Doris and Albert.
